Dear Ms. Triano,

As we mentioned to you and your fellow protestors/pickers in person, there is a large segment of the public that approaches us on a regular basis, asking why Psycho Donuts and leaders of the mental health advocates (specifically SVILC) haven't considered a public forum in where all can hear a discussion/debate on all sides of the issue. We here at Psycho Donuts agree!

As we have offered verbally in the past (and now officially in writing), we would like to have a public conversation / debate with you - either on TV or radio. The venue and moderator will need to be approved by both of us for it to go forward. We hope that you change your mind on due to the fact that we have a MAJOR TV station in San Francisco willing to air such a debate!

We are also curious why your protesting has suddenly stopped. We have heard a lot of speculation as to why you guys have thrown in the towel.

Whatever your reason, we believe that you owe the public an explanation why you've changed course since you started this discourse in such a public and sensationalized manner.

Thank you for your time, and have a wonderful day.

Kip Berdanski
